Jamestown held its annual "Out of This World" Science Camp over the weekend of October 15-17, 2010. This special event was designed for youth ages 9-13. Campers and Teens across the Southeast district of Virginia attended the event and were given the opportunity to make new friends, learn a variety of life skills, and engage in FUN scientific process activities. Our weekend was focused on exploration of the sciences and gave participants a taste of many different areas of expertise.

- Ask your kids how old are the trees at Camp?
- What are the different types of trees we have?

Campers, Teen Leaders, Staff, and Adult Volunteers had an amazing time discovering new hobbies and finding new friendships! Classes for youth included: Nano Technology, Batty Bout Bats, Bugs 'R Us, Crime Scene Investigation (CSI), Tree Trunkets, Reptilians, Power of the Wind and much more!!!

activities. We ended our weekend with a wonderful slideshow depicting our terrific weekend together.

With over 70 youth present we had a WILD Science Time! Highlights of the weekend included a special Power of the Wind Program lesson, Scientific Inquiry, Reptilians, "Life in a Rotting Log!" and a Science Fair! Campers also enjoyed an awesome outdoor campfire and participated in other traditional camp games and

Thank you so much to our outstanding 4-H and Horticulture Extension Agents, adult volunteers and teen leaders!!! Our extension agents and adult volunteers put in numerous hours and resources into preparing and implementing this Camp! Thank you so much for committing your time, energies, and expertise to the benefit of our youth!

Our Teen Leaders were wonderful with the kids! I've never seen so many kids attached at the hip to so many counselors! They were extremely patient, committed, and engaged with the youth this weekend.

Camp Staff never ceases to amaze me. Currently, they are all in college, and STILL coming back and devoting their weekends to our youth and our Camp! Thank you for continuing to make camp what it is for our campers!

"My girls had a great time at camp this weekend and they vow to never miss another one."

-Science Camp Parent

"My kids both had a blast and want to know when's the next thing they can come to. Thanks so much!!"
